WASHINGTON—Democrats in Congress and in key positions at the Eisenhower administration are urging the GOP to respect an agreement to keep Negroes off the payroll where possible under the administration's policies of discrimination.

The Negroes have been removed from jobs in the administration and libraries are being integrated on a regular basis.

The administration, however, has been accused of attempting to eliminate Negroes from the payroll, a situation that has led to the formation of the Citizens Committee for the Protection of Negroes.

Several Negroes have been removed from the payroll, and the administration has been asked to consider the situation.
